

Dear Collegiate Players,

The Seals Baseball Club would like to welcome you to our 35th season. As you know, the Seals offer collegiate players an opportunity to play in a professional summer environment. In addition to honing their athletic skills, we support the athletes in developing their pride and helping them pursue their scholastic goals. We assist our athletes in obtaining national exposure to professional scouts from Major League Baseball. We also afford these collegiate athletes the opportunity to travel throughout California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Colorado, Kansas, and Canada.

In return, we expect our players to present themselves in the utmost fashion throughout our season both on and off the field. This includes all games played, assistance with stadium operations, work effort during our baseball camps/tournaments, participation in community events, overall behavior, and of course, baseball performance. Read over the Player Conduct to see exact details of what is expected of incoming players. For all players needing housing you will be placed with local host families. Travel cost will be covered once you arrive: Hotels, vans, and Flights. On the road each player is responsible for 1 – 2 meals a day. All hotels will have continental breakfast and most of the opposing teams will feed us after the game. After home games we will be feeding the team at the stadium. Weight room will be coordinated so you can have access once you arrive.
